At the Greenlaw Operahouse, on Thursday evening, was inaugurated the series of art exhibitions to be given for the benefit of the Just of ened—500 new parasols, the latest in addition to being highly artistic and very beautiful, are eminently instructive and enter-taining, giving the traveler an opportunity of recalling the beauties of his foreign travels, and to those less fortune, whose knowledge of foreign coustries is derived wholly from books, a vivid and an absolutely accurate picture of the numerous places of interest mentioned in them. The pleasures of actual travel are brought within the reach of all, by means of these entertainments. Large audiences have greeted the three entertainments given with marked enthusiasm. The exhibiions have proved a decided success. On Thursday evening "Paris" was presented in all its splendor. The audience was escorted through ts gay and festive streets, alive with people. They stood before the magnificent monu-ments, columns, palaces and statues. They were made to view the grand architecture of its historic buildings and wandered through the halls, corridors and galleries. They stood on the banks of the river Seine, and rested in the parks and squares; and then standing before the splendid monument of Napoleon's great victories, the "Arch of Triumph of the Star," the greatest treat of the evening was to behold the relieves upon the facade as clearly defined to the eyes of the spectator as if he had been close to it Next, the statue of the celebrated work of classic art, the "Venus of Milo," was preto make one believe that one stood before it in the Louvre palace. Nothing realistic. It alone is worth going to Paris to see. Friday evening "Rome" was presented, and if the entertainment of Thursday was a success, that of Friday was a decided this evening are especially worthy of mention as beautiful representations of the originals. The statues appeared to stand out in bold relief, as they would in the studio. difficult to believe that they are not the marle images standing upon the stage, so truth ful is the picture. Every line, every shade and shadow of the original, finds it prottoype in the representation. On Saturday even-ing "Germany" was the subject for illustration, including views in Austria. The public buildings of Vienna, Berlin, Munich, Cologne, Stuttgart, Solzburg and other principal cities were presented in a thoroughly natural manner. The scenes on the Rhine including the immense castles of the Feudal Ages, that are to be seen on either shore. and constitute a tour of the Rhine, one of the most interesting and romantic in the world, besides the finest specimens of works of art to be found in the museums and galleries of Germany, were as perfect as nature itself. The dissolving sets that form a parof every entertainment, the "Flight of Mer-cury," "Water Babies," and the "Rock of Ages," form each, alone, such effects worth the admission fee charged. The entertainments are simply incomparable, and those that do not go early and often miss the greatest treat yet offered to our citizens. During the coming week the exhibitions will be continued every evening and on the other. These reflections were prompted Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. morrow England and Scotland will be the 292 Main street, Clark's marble block, dealer subjects for illustration, including complete tours of London and Edinburgh. THERE can be nothing more disgusting to the credulity of the public than to read of "cure all nostrums" so frequently advertised. terized him for many years in the hardware trade of this city; and besides that love for
